From Washington.

Washington, February 4.—The bill introduced by Mr. Kasson to day authorizes the Secretary of War through the proper officers of the army in the several military Departments of the cotton growing States, to issue certificates of indebtedness, to be paid after the close of the war, and upon the permanent restoration of the authority of the United States over the State of which the party receiving the certificate is at the time in condition to be delivered, to any person. Possessors of cotton in bales who shall bring or cause the same to be brought, to any military post or position occupied or held by our troops, the amount of such certified indebtedness not to exceed one half of the estimated value of such cotton at the seaports of the United States open to foreign trade.

The Secretary of War is authorized to provide permitted to purchase in such districts any cotton which is not at that time in possession of persons residing within the military lines, and removable without military protection.

This bill has been sent to the Committee on Ways and Means. The House bill to increase the Internal Revenue as it passed the Senate to day provides that after its passage in lieu of the duty provided for in the act of July 1st, 1862, and in addition to the duties payable for licenses, there shall be paid erty on all spirits that may be distilled and sold or dis tilled and removed for consumption or sale previous to July 1st 1864, for first proof, a duty of 60 cents per gallon; and upon all liquors that may be distilled after the passage of this act and sold or removed for consumption, or sold on and after the first day of August next, and previous tion, which proposes to do only what the Consti to July next, 70 cets per gallon; and on all liquors that may be distilled after the passage of sale on and after the first day of August next, ought not to be shielded and who were not to be 80 cents per gallon; and in addition to the duty heretofore imposed by law there is to be paid on spirits distilled from grain or other materials, the passage of the resolution. whether American or Foreign in production, im ported from foreign countries previous to the 1st as the living law of the land, and therefore it of July next, of first proof, a duty of 40 cents was before the House. per gallon, and on all such spirits imported from foreign countries on an after the 1st of July by which the previous question was ordered, and next a duty of 50 cents; and on all such spirits the passage of the resolution. imported from foreign countries on and after the first of January next, 60 cents per gallon.

With reference to the future, however, it may be said that the prospects point to a larger supply of currency. The Secretary of the Treasury is now paying out freely to creditors, and selling to the public the interest bearing legal tender notes. It is assumed by the Treasury Department that these securities will not increase | They are composed of a celebrated Calisaya Bark, Winthe volume of currency, since they will be held tergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in as investments rather than circulated as money. perfectly pure St. Croix Rum. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly and then currency will be practically as scarce as it is now; for one of the features of an irredeemable currency is, the more of it is issued, the more is required Mr. Chase's object, we suppose, is to ease up the money market by these issues, and then to open the 10 40 loan, which under these circumstances he hopes to be able to place at five per cent interest. In the meantime, however, prices of all commodities advance, and without takieg into consideration the evil consequences of thus inflating and unsettling the markets, the increased cost to the Government of globe. the commodities it is so largely consuming, will neutralize the advantages to be gained by the lower rate of interest on the permanent debt.

It must be apparent to every experienced financier that the interests of the country just now require, not an increase, but a contraction of the currency, and every dollar added now, directly or indirectly, to our paper issues, drifts us farther away from a specie standard, and renders more difficult a return to that basis. It is very pleasant, we are aware, to glide along on the smooth surface of an easy money market, and to accumulate large profits by what is popularly supposed to be an advance in prices, but it should be borne in mind that we must come back to the point from which we are steering; and while our outward passage is calm and pleasant, the inward trip must be through rough and stormy weather, that will deprive us of that pleasure now experienced, and render our passage very dangerous be-
